

WELCOME

OUR STORY

Have you ever wondered why people are crazy enough to get into the restaurant business?

Long hours, hard physical labor, working nights, weekends and holidays..... Well, I don't know about the other restaurateurs out there, but if you have a minute or two, I can tell you our story.

Michael (my hubby) had a dream. He dreamed of opening a successful restaurant. Mike grew up in the food business. His mom and dad owned various grocery stores and delicatessens in Philly. He knew people had to eat and he loved working with food. While in college, Mike worked at a lot of great restaurants in Philadelphia, New Jersey, and Maine.

So when Mike was only 21 years old he opened up Maggio's in Southampton.

Southampton was pretty much all farmland at the time. There was only one other restaurant in the area, and everyone ate there. So, Mike found out that a new shopping center was being built on 2nd Street Pike, he signed a lease, and off he went to create a restaurant that he knew would be successful.

Very slowly, but surely, word started getting around that Maggio's had great food and great service. And little by little, Maggio's started making some headway.

All this happened way back in 1976. Much has happened since then. Mike, needing some help, brought me (Gina) into the business. Kicking and screaming I might add. Our 4 children Julie, Josh, Becky and Sam grew up at Maggio's, and Josh, Becky, and Sam are still here working alongside us today. I love that part! I bullied Mike into starting the catering end of the business, which is my passion. He gave in only because he wanted some peace and quiet. I can be very persuasive.

So all and all, it's been an adventure. We've had our ups and downs along the way, but so far, we've all stuck together. We've worked very hard to create a place where you can relax, have a great meal, maybe a drink or two and enjoy some entertainment. And if you are ever in need of some catering for your special event, I hope you'll think of us.

Oh, I forgot to tell you why people are crazy enough to get into the restaurant business. I'm not sure I can describe the high you get when you have given your guests great food and service and they thank you for it. Or the high you get when the place is rockin' and rollin' and everything is running smoothly because we're all in "the zone" and working together to "make it happen."

It gets into your blood and while you might leave it for a while to work at a different kind of job, you always come back in the end. It's definitely the high of giving you, our special guest, the best food and service we can to make the time you spend with us relaxing and enjoyable.

Thank you for allowing us to serve you.

Gina & Mike
